

Upper Arlington Women's Club
Committed to our Community

Would you like an opportunity to see your friends, meet your neighbors, network, learn about new topics and give back to your community? Then consider joining the Upper Arlington Women's Club.

The UAWC is a civic organization for area women founded to provide fellowship and community information. Meetings take place quarterly and are held in members' homes, usually lasting one hour. Each meeting features a brief presentation by a speaker on topics including women's health, fashion, gardening, local leaders and newsmakers and community issues and projects. For more information please visit our web site uawomensclub.com

The UAWC is a non-profit organization. Annual dues are $45. Money raised through membership dues and fundraising projects are used to fund the Stefanie Speilman Humanitarian Awards. Stefanie was a founding member of the UAWC and these awards truly reflect her hopes for this organization. Five awards are given each year to area high school students living in Upper Arlington. These students are recognized for their humanitarian efforts and service to the community.

Any woman resident or supporter of Upper Arlington is welcome to become a member of the UAWC. To join this exciting organization, please return the completed registration form and a check for $45 (payable to UAWC) in the enclosed envelope to:
